[Cheers and applause]

[Cheers and applause]

Kelly: Hi! Hi! Hi! You were expecting somebody else? Just kidding. Just kidding. Have a seat. Have a seat. Hello, everyone. I'm so glad that you are all here today.

And at home especially today. Today the next chapter of the "live" story is about to be written. Today my new cohost will officially be joining me on "live." Today is a very good day.

And before we find out who that person is, I would first like to thank all of the men and women who sat next to me cohosting with me this past year. Yes!

To give it up for them!

[Cheers and applause]

Thank you is not a big enough word, but they took a time away from their day jobs to hang out with me in the morning. And part of what makes the show so special is helping us oh, we all became family.

They are a part of the "live" family forever. And secondly, I just want to acknowledge and thank all of you both in the studio audience and at home!

[Cheers and applause]

Kelly: Yes! Give it up for you! You have been incredible, wonderful, supportive, patient, you have stuck with the show. You guys are amazing! You never cease to amaze me!

And now, and now on with the show. Are you ready?

[Cheers and applause]

Kelly: You are going to meet my new cohost. He or she is ready to start his or her new job and would you like to meet him or her?

[Cheers and applause]

Kelly: Well, you will right after the break!

Announcer: Still ahead on "live," don't go away. We will announce the new cohost when we come back! Th

Kelly: Okay. This is a two. Is your microphone on? Don't answer me. I am so excited for you. Are you nervous? Don't be nervous. You'll be great. Here we go.

Let's do this!

[Cheers and applause]

Announcer: Now, here are kelly ripa and ryan seacrest!

Ryan: So happy! So exciting!

Kelly: Take a bow! Take a bow!

[Cheers and applause]

Ryan: Thank you! Thank you!

Kelly: I'll sit here! Thank you.

Ryan: Thank you, very much.

Kelly: Oh, hi!

Ryan: All right!

Kelly: I'm trying to get out of the way so that everybody can get their picture of you. Yes, did you get it? Did you get it, you got it, right? Now, get it now!

Ryan: Good morning, nice to see you partner!

Kelly: The morning, partner. It is monday, may 1st, 2017. Guess what else, it is also my wedding day. The tv wedding!

Ryan: Happy anniversary! 21 years.

Kelly: I think that they did this so that I would not forget my anniversary. Do you get it?

Ryan: Yes, I've made it through 7 minutes on my first anniversary of being with you. This is a full commitment.

Kelly: I'm excited.

Ryan: It is funny because Kelly and I are friends. We have known each other for a long time. When we were -- when we found out that that happened, we were told to give it a secret.

Kelly: This is hard for us, we are verbal people.

Ryan: I sent a text to some of my close, close friends and coworkers. I had great news. People know me well, you are engaged? No. You are having a baby?

Not that. You're coming out of the closet? How long have you known me? It is this. And I am so excited to be with you every day!

[Cheers and applause]

Kelly: And if you want to get engaged or have a baby or come out of the closet, all of those things are possible for you.

Ryan: It's going to be a busy year! Speaking of secrecy, we have some video of me coming in earlier this morning.

Kelly: I heard it was crazy.

Ryan: This is in the parking deck.

>> Don't try to hide the secret. I can't come up for air.

Kelly: And our house we don't call it a secret anymore, we call it a seacrest. We have changed the name of the deodorant to seacrest, because that's how secretive we have all been.

We have three teenagers, and I have to tell you that you can trust my kids with anything. I have never seen kids on lock down like my three. Really, I was blown away by how good they were with keeping their mouths shut.

Ryan: They are better than my mother, she sent an email to our friend of ours, George, and she forwarded it to me last night. And he said these words, don't worry, the secret is safe in our bosom.

And I thought, I will say hooray, she is older than I am and that's how they speak to their friends. Hello, mom. Great to see you this morning.

Kelly: That's an auto correct thing.

Ryan: You have to use it to get to autocorrect.

Kelly: I don't know if you know this, because I was trying to keep it from you, but I got that horrible bug this weekend. So I was sick in bed all weekend.

As to the point where we thought that maybe I had appendicitis. And I was like, you cannot -- nobody can cut me open, I have a big day on monday. Listen to yourself for a second.

It was the first time that I actually said to gelman, I was like, I was not nervous. If I am hospitalized, seacrest can do it all by himself!

Ryan: Good morning, the big reveal after this. It is me again! It would not have the same pizzazz! How are you feeling?

Kelly: Much better.

Ryan: What did you have?

Kelly: There is a bug going around.

Ryan: Are you contagious?

Kelly: I'm assuming that it is contagious, but the people that unfortunately sat with me last week are probably, sorry, johnny leguizamo. Sorry about that.

Ryan: I saw this, this is the thing that you should do on your first day at work, how to succeed. I was a little bit nervous. You are the greatest, people love you, I want to fit in.

I am new guy. I want to get on a mug. Or something. I saw the? Coming up with that. That was hysterical.

Kelly: Thanks, we put them in the dishwasher and washed right off.

Ryan: Things you should do to succeed, they say arrive early.

Kelly: You got here early. Get used to that.

Ryan: First impressions are important, work appropriate attire.

Kelly: You always look fancy.

Ryan: Thank you. Be humble.

Kelly: You are.

Ryan: I don't deserve this!

[Cheers and applause]

I don't deserve to be here! I'm going to keep it close to me. And things you should not do, don't talk about your last job. Don't do this in a relationship or a new job, don't talk about the last.

Kelly: Feel free to talk about your last job, because we want to know everything about jennifer lopez all the time. We are obsessed with her here. And here's the thing about jennifer lopez, she is just as shiny and flawless in person.

It is not a camera trick.

Ryan: If she faced times, even in the face time, she looks like there is a magical crew and team. She is just natural. She is that way.

Kelly: Did you say face time?

Ryan: Yes.

Kelly: Oh, we are going to make that happen. We are definitely going to -- I just heard my golden opportunity to face time with j-lo.

Ryan: One thing not to do is say, and my last job, when do I get a raise? Who should I meet and who should I avoid?

Kelly: I will give you that one.

Ryan: That one is good.

Kelly: That list is pretty wrong.

Ryan: My old boss was clueless. Oh that simon cowell has no idea what he is talking about.

Kelly: What do you think he is saying right now?

Ryan: Well, he is not up yet. And he is probably in the bath if he is.

Kelly: This is not just our work wedding anniversary, and my wedding anniversary, it is also melanoma monday. Just melanoma monday!

Ryan: The bangles beside there.

Kelly: They are giving out these sleeves, these are the sleeves that show you what skin cancer can potentially look like. So you put it on yourself, and again, as soon as I put this on myself, I decided that I have all of these on me somewhere.

But they give you the letter d of melanoma. If you have an irregular border, that can be assigned. The color, if it is a very weird color where it is not all one uniform color, the diameter, it should be greater than the size of a pencil eraser.

That is a sign. And a mole or skin region that looks different or changes size, shape, color over time. These are things to look for on your body. And you are moving to New York, so you are probably not going to be in the sun anymore.

You are in less danger, but we should put all of these on our website.

Ryan: I feel like if I have these, I want want a sleeve with none of them to cover over it.

Kelly: They should sell these so that people can, because a lot of people don't know. I am constantly, at this point I am my mother's a dermatologist.

I don't know if you have a medical relationship with your mom, but here is how my mom seeks medical attention. She goes to webmd first, and she comes up with a dire diagnosis.

And then she spends her diagnosis that she has self diagnosed to mean, her assistant doctor. And then I call a doctor who begs me to bring my mom in. And I say, but if you can just give me something to go on.

And they say, tell her everything is fine. And then we tell her that, then she can go see a doctor. Because people are afraid of bad news.

Ryan: Does she watch on a regular basis?

Kelly: The show?

Ryan: Yes.

Kelly: Yes, I think so.

Ryan: You mentioned that you have 21 years of wedding --

[Cheers and applause]

Ryan: So there are 14 pieces of marriage advice from a couple who has been married for 72 years. There they are. That could be any of us!

Kelly: I hope that is us.

Ryan: I am unmarried, you are married. Here are some tips. Love each other, you guys do. Limit eating out. Eat good food, watch your sugar intake. I don't know what that means.

Maybe you can shed some light.

Kelly: I can tell you from a standpoint -- I don't know how to say this. I'm just going to say this. In terms of getting lucky --

Ryan: Yes.

Kelly: You know what I am talking about. At the end of the marital night. If your husband, or my husband takes you out to dinner, I always, if he is going to get lucky, I order just a nice salad, something light.

Maybe a grilled piece of fish.

Ryan: That is his cue? I thought I was music, lighting, candles?

Kelly: If I order a steak or a burger, he is like, are you sure about that? Because I will be full and digesting food, you know, it is hard to be limber when you are digesting the stake.

Ryan: We know the question, one was the last time that you had a nice salad?

Kelly: Funnily enough, he is working in new mexico, so I can tell you with pinpoint accuracy. It was last week. So I'm not going to see him on our anniversary.

Ryan: You are celebrating this weekend?

Kelly: Yes, we're going to celebrate this coming weekend. We started celebrating last weekend, but -- so you know, we will face time each other a salad tonight.

Champagne and a salad.

Ryan: That makes me so excited to get married. Thank you, kelly.

Kelly: It is fun. Don't be afraid of it. You're moving to new york.

Ryan: Yes, I will be with you in a week, I have my home in los angeles.

Kelly: So you're going to go home on the weekend?

Ryan: I'm going to frequent fly.

Kelly: Would you take me home on the weekend?

Ryan: Would you like that?

Kelly: I love your house. It is dope and dry. It is lit. It is legit lit.

Ryan: That has so many definitions and connotations. What is your advice for here?

Kelly: Easier way in. You need to live in your space before you figure out how you need to live. Get to know your subway system, because especially when the president is visiting, or it is U.N. Weekend coming you will not be able to get anywhere.

The faster you learn the subway system, the easier your life will be. And yes, you can -- I don't know if you can, you're pretty recognizable.

Ryan: Here in new york, hey, that is that guy! I got that yesterday from a guy that was walking through the park. Nobody really knows it is me. I could be anybody from tv.

Kelly: Around here people are so busy minding their own business that they don't pay attention.

Ryan: I heard somebody say that he is much shorter in person. And I was fine with that. You know the truth.

Kelly: That's right. We have a big show today! Chris pratt is here! Bigger than this?

Ryan: This is so much fun! Sport stacking P.J. Ball, he is 12 years old.

Kelly: Did you meet him?

Ryan: I haven't yet.

Kelly: I met this kid, he has a baller, the kids say. I don't know what that means, but he is a baller. And it is time for, oh, this is your first is the official host, time for "burst into spring travel trivia."

Ryan: Here we go!

Chris: Yes, I have a great stuntman, but there was one mishap, I got knocked out.

Chris: Yes, 15 feet in the air. I walked in, and a lot of times they rehearse the stunt with the stunt team, so you walk in coming and there is a scene where my character and another character and brace like this, but horizontal to the ground, 1.

Kelly: That sounds hard.

Chris: Yes, so you are plinking in the air. And then we dropped, so we are going to land on a mat. And I was like, that is very fast. Jenny was slow that down?

They said that there was only half the speed. So I guess they doubled the speed. So they essentially just dropped us mid air.
